SATURDAY SERIES

CANAAN TOWN LIBRARY'S

Where can you learn about Dr. Seuss, find out how to care for (and about) a pig and meet a bear testing civil disobedience? At your local library, of course...

Canaan Town Library Trustees are raising private donations to pay for planned renovations. Volunteers have worked for more than two years and have secured over half of our $300,000 goal. We also recently received a $10,000 grant and the promise of $25,000 more if we can match that amount with new donations.

We will launch our public fund-raising campaign with a series of free Saturday afternoon programs at the Library. All events begin at 2 p.m. Tickets will be required for each event, but again, they are free. Availability is limited, and they will be first come, first served. You may reserve tickets now by calling the Library at 523-9650 or emailing info@canaanlibrary.org. Visit our website at www.canaanlibrary.org for more information on our guest speakers.

We hope you will come to some or all of our events and will consider making a gift to the Canaan Town Library Building Renovation Fund.

- April 21 Dartmouth College Professor Don Pease, Dr. Seuss expert, will speak on the life and works of Theodore Geisel (a Dartmouth alum). A reading for kids is also planned.
- April 28 Sy Montgomery will talk about her memoir "The Good Good Pig: The extraordinary life of Christopher Hogwood."
- May 5 Lillian Edelman, President of the New Hampshire Library Trustees Association, will discuss the role of libraries in their communities and society.
- May 12 D.B. Johnson, author of a national award-winning children's books series, will introduce his bear modeled on Henry David Thoreau, and his wife, Linda, will read her book "ZuZu's Wishing Cake."
